TASTING NOTES

BLACKBERRY / CHOCOLATE / PRALINE

A first-time showcase, Las Nubes is all about texture and body, amplified by a tasty forest fruit acidity. This coffee will appear in our Choc-Ice blend before launching in our shop—and as a subscriber, you get to be first in line to enjoy this gem.

Ernesto Lima's Las Nubes farm sits high in the mountains of Sonsonate, near the base of the Santa Ana volcano. At over 1,500 metres, its name—Spanish for “the clouds”—suits the altitude. The Lima family is among the most awarded in Cup of Excellence history, and Ernesto's coffees are carefully washed at the family's Las Balcanes micro-mill before export via Cuzcachapa.

The Limas grow coffee beneath native shade trees—cedars, oaks, and balsam—chosen to protect young plants from the shifting climate. A chocolatey treat, Las Nubes starts the season of Salvadoran coffee off with a bang!
